DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. In view of the Appeal Brief filed on August 25, 2004, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

- (1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,
- (2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wakisaka et al (US Patent No. 6,112,174) in view of Zavoli et al (US Patent No. 6,598,016).

3. Regarding claim 19, Wakisaka et al (column 2 line 52) reads on the feature of a positioning system that determines a current location of a vehicle in a region (col 3, lines 26-27).

Art Unit: 2654

Wakisaka et al (column 54-63) reads on the feature of an automatic speech recognition system that matches data representations of words spoken by a user of the vehicle to a word list of data representations of spoken names of geographic features; Wakisaka et al (AREA I-n in figure 3b) reads on the feature that the word list of data representations of spoken names of geographic features includes only a portion of all available data representations of spoken names of geographic features contained in a geographic database ... because, each AREA of Wakisaka et al changes nature depending on whether they are in use or not, the remaining dictionaries of Wakisaka et al (as in figure 3B) read on the feature that the word list of data representations of spoken names of geographic features includes only a portion of all available data representations of spoken names of geographic features, When the vehicle is in the appropriate AREA, Wakisaka et al reads on the feature that a first part that changes to include different words as the vehicle travels in the region such that the first part includes words for names of geographic features in proximity to the current location of the vehicle;

The configuration of Wakisaka et al (col 2 Lines 23-col 3 line 45) reads on the feature of a first part and a second part (corresponding to the first storage unit of claim 13 in col 11, lines 57-62), without explicitly stating that the second part does not change. With the invention for a system for using speech recognition with map data, Zavoli teaches modules VR1 and VR2 for voice recognition systems that provide for two separate dictionaries such that one module can be used for numbers and a small set of commands and the other can be a street names for a particular map. This set of more than one module for voice recognition with multiple dictionaries reads on the feature that the word list includes a 2nd part that does not change to include different words as the vehicle travels in the region and that includes words for names of selected geographic features located throughout the region (col 5, line 10 to col. 6, line 31) wherein both the first and second part are available to the automatic speech recognition system at the same time (particularly when representing a trip.

This would have made it obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art of speech signal processing at the time of the invention to apply the method/teachings of Zavoli to the device/method of Wakisaka et al because throughout the course of the trip, destination information does not change, while the present Location does with the progress of the journey.
